

University College London

THE
BLOOMSBURY
INSTITUTE OF
INTENSIVE CARE
MEDICINE

COURSES FOR ALL TRAINEE DOCTORS

38th MEDICAL EMERGENCIES COURSE

Saturday 28th & Sunday 29th April 2012

Venue: Cruciform Building, University College London

Topics to include:

What constitutes a sick patient?

Hypovolaemia, GI haemorrhage & acute hepatic failure

Oliguria, acute kidney failure

Metabolic emergencies

Unconscious patient, status epilepticus, meningitis

Hypotensive patient, the septic patient

Hypothermia, hyperthermia, overdose

Acute heart failure, arrhythmias

Dyspnoea, acute asthma, pneumothorax

Myocardial infarction, chest pain

INCLUDES
CRITICAL CARE
HANDBOOK

EMERGENCY CARDIOLOGY COURSE

Monday 11th & Tuesday 12th June 2012

Venue: Cruciform Building, University College London

Topics to include:

Medical vs invasive strategies in management

Advanced management of chronic heart failure

Endocarditis

Broad complex arrhythmias: diagnosis and management

Atrial fibrillation of recent onset

Effective use of echocardiography

Circulatory support devices

Acute left ventricular failure: haemodynamics in practice

Patients with pacemakers & devices

Grown up congenital heart disease

Acute STEMI management

Aortic dissection & sudden valve failure

Registration Fee: £250 per course (includes lunches, notebook and CD of handouts)

Register online now at www.hartleytaylor.co.uk

Contact carla@hartleytaylor.co.uk or telephone 01844 275650 for further information